WASHINGTON'S PEDDLERS.

Ways of Making a Living Presented No Other City in the Country.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.— are are certain avenues for earning a living open to industrious women in Washngton which could have developed in no other city, and which have gradually expanded as the number of women em-ployed in the government service has Women are doing office work in all cities, it is true, but no-where else can there be found so many women in one building doing clerical work as are found in every one of the as are found in every ene of the ruments of the government service, y range in age from twenty to ty. There is supposed to be an age, but in practice there is none, use women on entering office are to say they are years younger than actual age. The result is that of them fall down in office harness sheer exhaustion before they are side on the score of having reacher age. Now, this army often of all ages and all dispositions to be catered to, and their needs been appreciated by other industive women not in government em, who become the purveyors offorts and necessaries to their officials.

irious women not in government employ, who become the purveyors of comforts and necessaries to their official sisters.

In some of the government buildings there are strict rules that no one shall be admitted during office hours except those on official business; but women who want to get in to dispose of their wares to the cierks know how to get in. Women cierks haven't much time to sew and they have less time to run around to shops to buy the things with which to sew, and the woman who brings a stathel full of neat little parcels, each containing a piece of skirt braid, a spool of allk, hooks and eyes, a ready-made pocket to insert in a skirt, and loops rendy-made to tack on for langing up skirts is halled with delight, her parcels are snapped up with unofficial eagerness, and a fair price is paid for them. Certain of these women peddlers, as the doorkeepers call them, get the cream of the trade, of course. There is one old woman who has never offered anything for sale but aprona and sleeves, such as school children wear and with which the cierks protect their clean shirtwaist cuffs in summer and their cloth sleeves in winter. She has white and black aprona and waits a most distressed expression as though it really hurts her to part with the aprons she has made, but it is currently reported that she earns more in a year than most of the cierks.

The desks of clerks are supposed to be dusted and their belongings kept in order by the official charwoman, but it is a mere supposition. As a rile every woman in office takes pride in having her desk look well, and her needs for this purpose are met by a cheerful lame girl who prings for sale but the departments the nicest kind of cheescoloth dusters with loops to hang them at the back of the desk when not in use. She piece and the sale the series and the sale with loops to hang them at the back of the desk when not in use. She ments the nicest kind of cheesecloth dusters with loops to hang them at the back of the desk when not in use. She plies a lively trade in these dusters, the clerks buying them for home as well as office use. This young girl has also learned that old kid-glove wrists are the best of all things on which to wipe pens, and she gathers quantities of these together and sells them in little packages, five in a package, for ten-cents.

The shoulder brace woman is also well patronized. Constant learning over a desk develops round shoulders, and government clerks have as much vanity as other women. So wheathey discover a tendency to stoop they begin to think of braces. It would be troublesome to buy them in a store, but it is no trouble to have "shoulder-brace binary" as they call her, come at noon and fit them on while they are eating luncheon. Many a fitty-cent piece is exchanged for a pair of braces that blary guarantees to cure the worst case of round shoulders and which she makes herself according to her own ideas of anatomy.

The finier woman is not forgotten by the cilice venders either. At noontime curtain favored small merchants come hurryling in with their baskets of good things. An old colored woman who makes the best doughnuts ever tasted by department clerks has her basket embiled and her pocket filled with nir. Is in the twinkling of an eye. A sure coviced woman brings delicious angel-cake to those whose orders she has taken the day previous, and her little order book is always full. The favorite fruit purveyors are two little girls, one about twelve, the other ten, who can scarcely stagger along under the, big baskets of apples and pears which are wheel and rubbed until they shine alluringly, and which quickly find their way to the desks of the clerks who take their luncheons to the office. Many of the women clerks make tea for luncheon. They are no longer allowed to heat water on alcohol stoves as of old, several explosions having occurred, but they get plenty of hot water from the engine room of the building. A poor woman who knew that the clerks liked ten, also that they were always in a hurry and often forsot to bring it from home, comes around daily with neat little drawings of tea done up in Japanese paper. The tea is of excellent quality, and the clerks are willing to pay a fair price for it.

The home-made jams and jelies of a certain Mammy Jones are hought by the clerk if it takes their last cent. No living woman having the dimes with devilled crabs which can't be excelled.

In short, any one who pittes a woman government cierk because she has ro time to shop for small articles and because she can't go home to luncheon, can save sympathy for more deserving objects. The cierks' wants are looked after in a most complete way, and the lidustry of the outside women who cater to them is rewarded.

Prof. Worcester's Report. ANN HARBOR, Mich., Oct. 23.—Prof. Dean C. Worcester, of the Philippine last night for one day's stay en route from Vancouver to Washington, where he will present his report to President McKinley. He refused to divulge anything hearing on the preport, saying it must go to the President before it is given out for publication. Prof. Worccare has taken about three hundred photographs in the islands, but refused to please any of them for reproduction, saying: "They may be made a part of my final report. Many of them show the present state and methods of cultivation of the rice and sugar fields of the Philippinea. The government is entitled to the exclusive use of such photographs as it sees fit to appropriate." From this statement it is presumed that Prof. Worcester has been engaged in gathering data and photographic evidence of the agricultural resources of the Philippines. He refused to divulge any-

The Features of the Money and Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24 .- Money on call firm at 668 per cent; last loan 6 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 557512 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.56%.004 87 for demand and at $4.82%.00 4.83 for 60 days; posted rates $4.8400 4 84½ and 34 88@4 88½; commercial bills 34 82. the advance was concerned the attempt was abortive. Prices were very un-steady at the close and in many cases were pursuing a downward course. The active realizing in the first hour was much helped by a notable accession of outside demand which was attracted by yesterday's sharperise following a week of stubborn resistance to all attempts at driving prices downward. This de-mand and continued manipulation by a section of the bull party served to wipe out pretty generally the opening decline and bring the market to about last night's level. Having reached that point, the downward course began, and with the exception of some irregular fluctuations, the market continued heavy below last night's level for the rest of the day. Special points of weak-ness in the early dealings were Sugar, American Tobacco, Malting preferred, Anaconda, Puliman and Blooklyn Transit. Aggressive strength was shown all day by United States Leather, which was taken in enormous lots and rose at one time to 22%c. The closing was a point below par. New York Central, after a small fractional advance met very heavy offerings on the announcement of an additional stock issue of $15,000,000. The stock moved somewhat irregularly during the day within a range of a point below last night's level. The London market reflected some depression upon this market and the un-dertone there was distinctly weak on the uneasiness regarding the position of the British troops in Natal. The sug-gestion of the chancellor of the exchequer that tax on South African gold mines might be looked to to help defray the expense of the war, was apparently not relished by the speculators in the mine market. London's sales in this market were upwards of 30,000 shares. The general weakness of copper mine shares had a depressing influence on speculation. The weakness of Anaconda on the exchange was supplemented by a break in Amalgamated Copper in the outside market and by weakness in Boston. The hardening tendency of money was a discouraging factor for the bulls. Most of the day's call to answer made above 6 per cent and the rate rose to 8 per cent late in the day. Bankers generally asked 6 per cent for time loans and were disinclined to put out their funds for the longer periods. Rather less money was shipped to the interior to-day, but the outgo, while diminished, still continues. The sub-treasury is also absorbing funds.

Realizing was in evidence in some portions of the bond market, making the price changes mixed. Total sales par value $2,450,000. United States old 4s advanced ¼ per cent and new 4s and 5s % per cent bid

Reports of a break in the drouth added to the selling movement and the early gain was all lost. The market continued weak the remainder of the season and closed at the bottom. A report that Argentine would have a surplus of over $6,000,000 bushels for export this year had a depressing influence during the late trading. December opened 4c lower at 70% 670%c; advanced to 71% 671%c; and declined to 70%c at the close. Chicago received 254 cars, five of which were of contract grade. ern primary receipts were 1,183,000 bushels, or 500,000 bushels less than last year. Atlantic port clearances of wheat and flour equalled 483,000 bushels. Cash demand poor.

Corn ruled strong and active, but had its advancing tendency closged somewhat by profit taking. There was a soft spot early with wheat, but poor yields, a good cash demand and lower ocean rates soon started a rally. A decrease of 1,080,000 bushels in the visible gave further impetus to the buying and although liquidation was conspicuously heavy near the close, prices were well maintained. Cash demand good. Receipts 739 cars. December opened 4c clower at 314,0314c.

Oats ruled easy, with trade limited. Receipts were large, 442 cars, but this was offset by a decrease of 49,000 bushels in the world's visible. December opened a shade lower at 224c; advanced to 224,0224c. and declined to 224,0224c. Too many hogs and lower prices of the yards weakened provisions early. Part of the loss was recovered later on by buying by packers, but there was very little animation to the trade. Dry Goods.

NEW YORK—The demand for staple cottons for quick delivery is still in available supplies, but there is a noticeable failing off in the volume of bidding for forward contracts and to-day's aggregate business has hardly been up to the recent average. The tone of the market shows no loss of strength, and in all instances recent advances are realized. To-day's advances in prices are confined to wide sheetings the Boston and New York mills makes moving into line with others previously marked up. The print situation is unchanged. Staple lines in steady request and very firm. Shirting prints for next spring are selling well. Ginghams unchanged. Print cloths 3% for regulars and inactive, odd goods quiet at full prices. No change in the woolen goods division.

BOSTON—The wool market has been more active this week with price firm in all grades. Territory wool continues to lead the transactions. Fine medium and fine are bringing 52@54c on the scoured basis, while staple lots are being sold at 50c. Fleece wools are firm but offerings are limited. Australian wools are cutting a small figure in the transactions, owing to their scarcity, Ohio and Pennsylvania disces—X and above 30@31c; NX and XX and above 13@32c; delains 35c; No. 1 combing 34@35c; No. 2 combing 32@33c.

Metal.

NEW YORK—The market for metals suffered from a lack of support in the shape of orders, more liberal offerings and disappointing news from producing points in the west and from European markets. The lower and unsettled, with $30 52½ bid and $30.87½ asked. Spelter dull, with $5.00 bid and $4.65 asked. The brokers' price for lead is $4.40, and for copper $18.
